BUILDING A COMMUNITY THAT SUPPORTS HEALTHY YOUTH

Written by Nancy Neagan

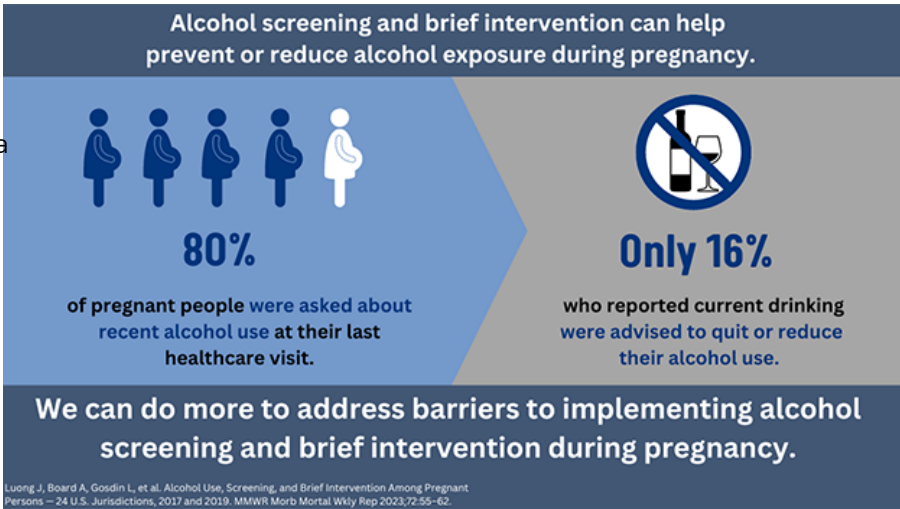

Throughout Michigan we are seeing an increase in significant social problems leading to the highest ever recorded rate of deaths of despair. This encompasses deaths from overdose, suicide, and alcoholic liver disease. While others are doing great work in crisis management with mental health and drug treatment and recovery, we focus on prevention. Economically, with every dollar spent on prevention, we save an estimated (look up cost benefit for programs you implement here: <https://www.wsipp.wa.gov/BenefitCost?topicId=9>)

The body text here should include:

- What you do in your community
- Who you work with in the community
- What your local data shows
- The specific issues impacting your community
